

Room 7—Curricular Information

Mrs King
Sep– Dec 2017

Literacy

Our focus for literacy will be The novel The Owl Who Was Afraid of the Dark. Through this we will cover some reading strategies: connecting, comparing and predicting. Our focus for writing will be VCOP and we will do some report writing and narrative story writing too. Throughout this term there will still be weekly reading books .

Numeracy

We will revise numbers to 1000 and place value with everyone and some children will extend their knowledge of number to numbers to 1000. In maths we will cover measure with a focus on weight and time .

Social Studies

We will cover the Romans topic and compare Roman life to life today.

H&W

We will create our class charter looking at the Rights of the Child and extend our knowledge of the rights using information from the UNICEF Launchpad website.

Science

We will look at the life and habitat of owls and how they adapt to their surroundings.

Expressive Arts

Drama and music will be delivered by Miss Pinkerton this term . She will be doing a block of lessons on each and, where possible, link this in with topic work

Art will be covered by Miss Primrose .

RME

We will be looking at Harvest and linking it to the Jewish festivals of Shabbat and Rosh Hashanah.
